Dear Sir/Madam,

Please allow me to introduce the Australian Federation of Modern Language Teachers Associations (AFMLTA). The AFMLTA is the national peak body representing the language teaching profession in Australia. Founded in 1962, the AFMLTA continues to provide a significant national voice and representation on curriculum and policy matters in relation to languages education.

Membership of the Association is through the eight State and Territory modern language teacher associations (MLTAs). At the local level, each MLTA attracts individual language teacher membership, with total membership in 2009 of 2735 individuals.

The AFMLTA has taken a lead role in significant national projects relating to languages education, and DEEWR include AFMLTA in project advisory groups for their national languages education projects.

The AFMLTA's website can be found at: www.afmlta.asn.au

It has recently come to our attention that Austraining International was successful in its tender to offer the Endeavour Language Teacher Fellowships. We trust that Austraining might now include the AFMLTA on any communications that are disseminated about the ELTF application process. We can then disseminate through our email networks. In previous years, too, an AFMLTA Officer has been appointed to the ELTF Project Advisory Group, and we would sincerely wish for this to continue into the future.

We look forward to hearing from you,

Kind regards,

President, AFMLTA
